

Psilos Group Acquires HNA/Triveris

Psilos will use intellectual property and technology assets from the acquisition to deploy Triveris's proprietary, personal health record - Health Insight Now™

New York, NY – March 27, 2008 – Psilos Group today announced that it has acquired HNA/Triveris, a health technology and services provider based in Eatontown, New Jersey, for an undisclosed sum. Psilos Group, a healthcare private equity firm, intends to operate HNA/Triveris as a branded, standalone business serving a broad range of existing and new customers. Triveris will maintain its headquarters in Eatontown.

“This addition to our portfolio solidifies our commitment to investing in businesses that dramatically improve the quality of health care in the United States,” says Dr. Albert Waxman, Senior Managing Member of Psilos Group. “Triveris has a proven track record in reducing the cost of health care by improving individual health using innovative technology and services.”

“This acquisition presents a wonderful opportunity for our company to expand and strengthen our role in reducing the cost of health care for companies, by improving the health of individuals who work for them,” says Dr. Stephen Kardos, CEO and founder of HNA/Triveris. “When companies integrate their health plans with our proprietary technology, Health Insight Now™, we empower both employers and employees to play an active role in preventive health and disease management.”

Health Insight Now™ is both a personal health record (PHR) with a built-in health advisor - and a corporate reporting tool that provides an aggregate, HIPAA compliant overview of a company's health status. As a personal health record, Health Insight Now automatically imports individual's lab results, health history, pharmacy records, and claims data and organizes this information into an easy to understand, logical plan for preventive health and medical condition management. It then guides users on important actions they need to take based on their own personal health information. As a corporate reporting tool, Health Insight Now supports organizations' efforts to keep employees healthy by giving them the data needed to launch wellness programs and compliance-based plans.
